Charming Daughter of Italian Consul Riccio Injured Many Wounds.

By Fall on Defective Mrs. Louise Petrocelli, the charming daughter of Consul Riccio, of the Italian government at New Haven, and wife of Attorney Louis M. Petrocelli, has filed notice of her intention to bring suit for damages against the city of Bridgeport. The notice is filed through Attorney Henry Greenstein. The plaintiff claims that on March 26 she was crossing Main street, at Wall street, when she stepped in a hole in the asphalt pavement. She turned her ankle and fell. The fall sprained her back, wrenched her knee and confined her to bed for several days.

The suit is the first occasioned by the defects in the asphalt pavements, which though numerous, have fortunately up to this time been the cause of few injuries. has filed notice of her intention to

The inimitable talents of Mr. White and Miss Stuart were never shown to better advantage than in "Cherie." Yesterday's audiences roared their appreciation at every move of the breezy race track man Bruce Scott, portrayed by Mr. White, and Miss Stuart was no less attractive in her role of Cherie Bertram, the dashing and handsome woman.

Manchester Bros., offering their enigma, Gaanda-Humanus thoroughly mystified the big audiences. The act consists in the exhibition on the stage of a wonderfully arranged mechanical figure representing a human being, and operated by electricity. Gaanda-Humanus walks, rides a bicycle, writes one a biackboard and climbs stairs. At the conclusion of the act the operators took the figure apart showing the clockwork in motion, and demonstrating that Gaanda-Humanus is an inanimate thing of gutta percha, paper mache, wax and steel. The act occasioned genuine wonderment. The other features on the bill were acceptable. James Harrigan, the favorite tramp juggler, pleased as usual.

Contemplated Corporation Intends to Improve a Great Area of Land in Stratford.

(By Our Staff Correspondent.)
Hartford, April 13.—The house to-day passed a resolution extending until July 1, 1911 the time for the organization of the Stratford Land & Point Co. Judge Parker, chairman of the incor-porations committee said that the reason that this company was not organ-ized before was due to the financial stringency of the last two years. He said that there were a number of Bridgeport and Stratford people inter-ested in the proposed corporation, the object of which was to improve a vast area of land in Stratford, east of the town line of Bridgeport.
